“Guardians” RPG where Encounter becomes Bonding, Tetsuya Komuro Joins as Music Director

Komuro to appear in the upcoming music video for the game's theme song
Preregistration for "Guardians" begins today along with special campaign

AIDIS Inc. (henceforth "AIDIS") based in Shibuya, Tokyo, and ran by CEO Hisatoshi Hayakashi and LINE Corporation (henceforth "LINE") based in Shinjuku, Tokyo, and ran by CEO Takeshi Idezawa announced today that Tetsuya Komuro is music director for the two companies' collaborative title, an RPG called "Guardians". Preregistration for the game has also begun alongside a commemorative campaign.

A smartphone MMORPG with simple tap and swipe controls, "Guardians" can be played with anyone at any time. The game offers two gameplay modes to suit individual playstyles: World Mode, where players team up with other players to explore vast areas; and Quest Mode, where players band together to battle colossal monsters. Furthermore, there is no time-restricting stamina system: players can play for as long as they like however they like! Preregistration for "Guardians" began today, along with a commemorative campaign. Additionally, we are proud to announce the music producer Tetsuya Komuro is directing all the game's music. He is working on 29 songs, including the theme song.

■ Tetsuya Komura Is Music Director for "Guardians," and Will Be Releasing His First Compositions since Retiring!

Music producer Tetsuya Komura has been directing the game's music since spring last year, working on a total of 29 songs—the theme song and 28 background themes—that encapsulate the feel of the game's world. The theme song, "Guardian," and its music video featuring Komura himself will be available on the game's official YouTube channel soon.
