

Limited-Time Last Cloudia /
FULLMETAL ALCHEMIST BROTHERHOOD Collab!

[TOKYO, JAPAN – July 15, 2021] Today, mobile game developer and publisher AIDIS Inc. released a collaboration event between its highly rated smartphone RPG Last Cloudia and the popular television anime FULLMETAL ALCHEMIST BROTHERHOOD. It features playable FULLMETAL ALCHEMIST BROTHERHOOD characters and arks, including the units Edward Elric and Alphonse Elric, as well as the Automail Mechanic ark. Additionally, a playable Alphonse Elric will join the roster of every player who completes the collab's Otherworld Alchemist quest.

Exclusive gear and multiplayer stamps, special login bonuses, and great social media giveaways are sure to make this collab both entertaining and unforgettable. Let's take a deeper look into the load of content that's available from day one.

Edward Elric Unit (Voice: Romi Park)

This speedy and versatile Earth attacker boasts powerful traits and skills like Fullmetal Alchemist (which increases skill damage for skills used with Alchemy) and Automail (which greatly increases attack abilities when a machine is equipped). His unique skill You're Outclassed greatly increases damage to bosses; while his unique magic, Soul Compensation, allows him to use his own HP to revive incapacitated allies.

Keen collectors will want to know that the unit Edward Elric is guaranteed on Step 5, Lap 3 of the Collaboration Step-Up Gacha.

Automail Mechanic Ark

This ark includes Machine Boost, a learnable skill that makes units more effective when equipping machines. The learnable skill Earth Attack Raise makes Edward Elric's skills even more formidable, while the other collab skill Automail Equipped boosts the physical damage a unit deals and lowers the physical damage it takes.

The ark's trait has both offensive and defensive value: when a machine is equipped, it boosts skill damage, continuously activates Fort, and raises DEF. When an ally is inflicted with a basic status ailment, remove the ailment and add +1 to basic status ailment resistances for a set time (once per wave).

This unit and ark are available in the FULLMETAL ALCHEMIST BROTHERHOOD Pick-up Gacha Pt. 1, held July 15, 2021, post-maintenance – July 28, 11:59 pm (PT).

That's not all, though: more great content is coming in the second part of this collaboration event. On July 21, 2021, post-maintenance, the unit Roy Mustang and the ark Oh No, It's Started to Rain will be released. Details will be announced in-game soon.

Otherworld Alchemist Event

One of the most exciting features of this collaboration is the Otherworld Alchemist co-op quest, where all players work together to defend a location from attacking monsters. Quest rewards include collab tickets, event equipment, multiplayer stamps, a playable Alphonse Elric unit, and more.

While adventuring, Last Cloudia main character Kyle and his companions pass through a city that is being attacked by beasts. After fighting a battle to defend the city, they find a mysterious, shining, red stone. A self-styled alchemist claims to have been seeking it, and says that it was responsible for the beast attack. The alchemists and the heroes of Last Cloudia then decide to team up. Meanwhile, somewhere in the shadows, a female scientist smiles menacingly while clutching a red stone...

Alphonse Elric (Voice: Rie Kugimiya)

This no-attribute tank protects his allies while still packing a punch. His unique skill, All is One, All is the World, increases ally DEF while the unit is alive. His other unique skill, I'll Protect You All, applies a barrier that nullifies one basic status ailment. The Melee Master has a chance to powerfully counter physical attacks. Meanwhile, his Empty Armor Body trait increases DEF each time a skill is used.
